o the sky grey orange an the walls stained blue an i laid right down on the golden satin with you into sween dark circles of beautiful eyes i go round
o lord
i go round
will you tell me once again cream white skin
you are my friend
i seen you walkin' and your white hips sway o girl i will have you no more to the moan in your voice not a charm do you lack your skin to touch as a black ravens back but i cannot go far with these words as they rhyme as to tell, of the pleasure, your hand in mine an i pray as i say this song in this way that your eyes they would close an your head begin to sway an you'll feel how he heals with his blood on our skin i am yours lady scrawled an thin

cream white skin
you are my friend
i seen you walkin' in your husband's way girl i will have you more
