I look in the mirror at the man in front of me Just a hazy reflection of all the things I want to be I'm so frustrated by all the compromise
So embarrassed by the way
I feast on the hollow lies

And when Your truth is so much sweeter
And Your love is so much deeper

Well You cannot love me more and You will not love me less Though I come to You with nothing
I receive Your righteousness
Well I come just as I am
oh but here's the mystery
While I can come without changing
Your love changes me

I sometimes imagine when I am all alone
Given some more time
I could have done this on my own How can I be so blinded by my pride
And how could I forget
I was dead before You gave me life

For You are the great life giver
And You are the promise keeper

Well You cannot love me more
and You will not love me less
Though I come to You with nothing
I receive Your righteousness
Well I come just as I am,
While I can come without changing
Your love changes me

Nothing of my own I bring Simply to Your cross I cling Nothing of my own
So I know it's You alone
That gives me everything

For You loved before I loved You
And You've done what I could never do

Well You cannot love me more
and You will not love me less
Though I come to You with nothing
That while I can come without changing
Your love changes me

Your love changes me
Your love changes me
Your love changes me
