Here come a strange one, with all undone, a man unto his own, oh no, a window you cannot show. Make me cry. Day into day into day, oh, they're taking what is yours, your heart and you're dreams and all your fear. All I say. Take a slice of Southpaw life. It can be so funny. I bleed, you feed, you should've known better. But you're cryin' won't take away my tear stained eyes. Get back Jack. I'll kill you like a heart attack, but won't you stay?
