You got a hold of some wrong information
If you were told the keys to win were too complicated
They pulled your leg and you been given the business Hoodwinked and sheisted 'til you froze from a distance

Your parents wasn't nothing you?d be nothing you?d assume Just wanna work and get a job since there is nothing else to do
But it?s all lies just an excuse in disguise Victory for you was sealed from first ticking in time

And I came to challenge y?all it's exceedingly more Proceeding with all of your heart avoid exceedingly bored
How less can one expect when Christ sits as Lord?
He passed you the torch and all obstacles get floored

For those who feel unworthy now step out your bubble If we got what we deserved, well, then we all would be in trouble
How can it be he uniquely placed us
Of incorruptible seed meticulously traced us so

What you rock now, and how you rock now Echoes in eternity, if it's not you, who then?
And if it's not now, then when does the greatness begin?

Say what you rock now, and how you rock now Echoes in eternity, just know it's you now then Start to make your move and then does the greatness

Is it possible to live every day of the week From the moment you wake from sleep to never bow to defeat?
The old bones that held you back had been seen delete
And you can use these truths to fully complete the beat

I?ll let the snare drive it in your head call it brainwashing

Close your eyes imagine doing things really awesome
The game plan has never changed bro
We still get the same land if the players don't walk lame though

There's a race to be ran so let's race on in With an upper handed advantage custom built to win Throw your hands in the air and don't procrastinate Why we either never do it or we always do it late?

Say what you rock now, and how you rock now
Echoes in eternity, if it's not you, who then?
And if it's not now, then when does the greatness
begin?

Say what you rock now, and how you rock now
Echoes in eternity, just know it's you now then
Start to make your move and then does the greatness

Many wobble when they wander what their place is On their own strength trying to get to new phases Never wonder when you know what your place is It ain't your own strength when you get to new phases

Can't hang on to long to this ledge or brink Start to walk on beyond to what I've asked or dreamed When my sites are set off then I'm prone to sink
And my own vocal tone can create the kinks

Now some hate this, he placed a name on the faceless Implanted his genetic code its DNA laced with greatness
Feelin' like a winner from a sweepstakes
As we sweep breaks, just to give the listener a sweet taste
