I don't know what's gone but we've let it slip
Holding together but now we drift
I look in your eyes I don't see your face
I'm sure you belong in a different place

This feels like it's gonna break me
I've just let this carry on for far too long
No more

So what you gonna do when your with out me
You should have given more now I'm feeling empty
So what you gonna do when your with out me
You take me for a ride and you drive me crazy

This isn't an easy thing to say
Forget all the promises we've made
Give up on our dreams and our fantasies got to take a look at what I really need

I feel like a souls been taken
It's like our hearts are waging a new war
No more

So what you gonna do when your with out me
You should have given more now I'm feeling empty
So what you gonna do when your with out me
You take me for a ride and you drive me crazy
