"Til The End"

If i never see your loving face again i'll go on loving you til the end and if my broken heart and i dont find a way to mend

The years and miles may seperate you from me the pain may lessen more as time goes by but as for me the memories will never bend and i'll go on loving you til the end

If we're ever free to ever love again i know straight to your waiting arms is where i'll go and there i'll stay forever and i'll prove to you again
i'll go on loving you til the end
