Hoping high in a midnight craze
The days I wait, I felt something for you
Try to make it stop, my thoughts
They all crisscross

They melt into your fire flesh
It burns me like an insect
And I contemplated
Never cared

I can't hold it
I can't hold it in

I want you to rest those bones over me
I got to know
Where do you go
Whenever I need you the most?

I don't know you like I should
Been waiting wishing for the time I could
See the smoke know you're around
I won't put you out

'Cause I know your fire flesh
It burns me like an insect
And I contemplated

I can't hold it
I can't hold it in

I want you to rest those bones over me
I got to know
Where do you go
Whenever I need you the most?
