There's something,
Up there,
It slipped out the cracks of my lips,
There's something,
Up there,
It slipped through the cracks.

I saw it,
From the corner of my eye,
There's something,
Up there,
It slipped through the cracks,
I swear.

No one believes me,
I can't even trust me,
The dark's deceiving,
Blame it on the television.

There's something,
Up there,
It slipped out the cracks of my lips,
I saw it,
From the corner of my eye,
It's not just in my head.

No one believes me,
I can't even trust me,
The dark's deceiving,
Blame it on the television.
No one believes me,
I can't even trust me,
The dark's deceiving,
Blame it on the television.

Medicated dreams,
A feeling I call "lonely",
Medicated dreams,
A feeling I call "lonely".

A noisy repeat,
A twist in my sheets,

It's chilling my room,
I can't sleep,
I only stare,
Is it really there?

I swear.

No one believes me,
I can't even trust me,
The dark's deceiving,
Blame it on the television.

No one believes me,
I can't even trust me,
The dark's deceiving,
Blame it on the television.

Blame it on the television.
