

National, The "Brainy"

Visit "Brainy" on MotoLyrics.com

I've been draggin around from the end of you coat for two weeks, ah ah.
Everywhere you go is swirlin, everything you say has water under it, ah ah.
You know I keep your fingerprints in a pink folder in the middle of my table you're the tall kingdom I surround think I better follow you around

You might need me more than you think you will come home in the car you love, brainy brainy brainy

I've been draggin around from the end of you coat for
two weeks, ah ah.
You keep changing you're fancy fancy mind every time
I decide to let go
I was up all night again, boning up and reading the American dictionary you'll never believe me what I found
think I better follow you around

You might need me more than you think you will
come home in the car you love, brainy brainy brainy
You might need me more than you think you will
come home in the car you love, brainy brainy brainy

Visit National, The page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.