They're gonna send us to prison for jerks for having vague ideas of the way to turn each other on again

They're gonna send us to prison for jerks

They'll find us here here here in the guest room where we throw money at each other and cry, oh my

We miss being ruffians, going wild and bright in the corners of front yards getting in and out of cars we miss being deviants

They'll find us here here here in the guest room
where we throw money at each other and cry, oh my

We can't stay here
we're starting to stay the same
We can't stay here
we can't stay this way

Just tie your woman to your wrist give her room to tie the other

They'll find us here here here in the guest room
where we throw money at each other and cry, oh my
