ten years older than i was what i brought you down to see, what i thought would make you fall in love wearing off on our dreams someday man i'm gonna be no different than the other rivers

i tried to look at you but i couldn't break the ice you stood out there for an hour freezing put your hand around my back i guess you thought i needed that i never try to find you

i hope you don't remember me i hope you're not alone wanted me to take you home you said you'd rather be alone i never thought of that car is warm and we had wine but i couldn't find the perfect song now our furniture for the one with crows feet and i can't even remember the call sometimes i can feel your weight when i close my eyes seven times i was under you

and i don't wanna know what your thinking i'm looking out the window just drinking shallow frame and shaky sticks but i know there's a river in me shallow minded adult tricks but i know there's a river in me
