I think it's sad you lost your faith, she said
I think it's sad you dont believe
I think it's sad that you think we'll all be safe, I said
I think it's sad, you're so naive

So look what I've destroyed, it's something so beautiful

Make me believe, ignite this fire that died in me
Make me believe, resuscitate the soul that died in me
Does this blood flow without a reason?
Or does your father's heart ache when I cry?
Does blasphemy always equal treason?
Or does nothing happen when we die?

So look what I've destroyed, it's something so meaningful

Make me believe, ignite this fire that died in me
Make me believe, resuscitate the soul that died in me

My words... my eyes... they're empty but I'm no fool
Your crutch, your faith, they're empty
I'm not sure where I stand
But I'm afraid I stand alone
