"Cold And Blue"

I've never felt alone this time of year
In fact I've never felt alone.
There are moments I could lay down and die
But in these dark times it never hurts to try.

What a miracle it'd be if I could see
Just one more breath escape past your teeth.
If I'd have known it was going to be this hard
I would've crawled in the dirt and gone to sleep with you.

Your cold blue lips haunt me while I sleep.
They find me and remind me.

The snow covers your white outline on the street
It almost seems like you weren't here
I know it sad but I walk past it every day
It's the only time I feel anything

Your cold blue lips haunt me while I sleep.
They find me and remind me.
It's not blood, it's not tears
That makes you real
It's the memory you left inside of me.

The table's set for two
Am I crazy?
Is that crazy that I still pour a glass for you

The table's set for two
Am I crazy?
Is that crazy that I still pour a glass for you

Your cold blue lips, they haunt me while I sleep.
They find me and remind me.
It's not blood, it's not tears
That makes you real
It's the memory you left inside of me.

Your cold blue lips haunt me while I sleep.
They find me and remind me.

It's not blood, it's not tears
That makes you real
It's the memory you left inside of me.
