Dear God, if you can hear me then save me
From myself, 'cause I'm gone and close to dying
From all the things I've done

I guess it's true, you become the things you do

Kill me, taste me, I need this to burn so I know What I'm wasting, breathe in deep and hold me there

Don't inhale till I'm safe and sound and you've promised I'm fine

Body and mind

My God what have I done? have I forgotten who I am?
There was a time when I was strong enough to keep myself from all of this
But all of this just felt so fucking good
But now I'm suffercating

Can you feel me inside of you?
Swimming safely inside of you
I would die here if you let me
Let me fill you up till our hearts explodes
