"To You"

Visit "To You" on MotoLyrics.com

I'd lie down in darkness with devils
And awaken with strangers
That I never knew
I'd follow the hoofbeats of heartaches
If I thought they would lead me to you

There's so little magic in morning
Butterflies in your eyes and a teardrop or two I'd run down the dawning with danger if I could be running to you

If I cried out to God without warning
Who am I, where am I
Why am I so alone?
He'd probably show me the highway leading To You and to home

There's so little magic in midnight
Fireflies in your eyes
And a sparkle or two
I'd dance through the darkness with danger
If I could be dancing to you

If love gives you life or takes lifetimes
I'll give life or take life to you
