Lightning flashes all over the sky. Weather center calls for a storm

This ain't no ordinary sky. The invasion begins Who thought that God would step in and stop the war?
Lightning flashes... an old book of mine... clearly mentioned all this

Before

We ain't supposed to be surprised But the few who prepared are gone now as we face the wrath of God

Ooh, I see Him comin' back again like the lightning comes from east to the

West

Faces fallin' as the Son returns to earth again... I can see Him

Lightning flashes... the moment of Christ. This moment He's been waitin'

For

The angel hosts have arrived!
Pale and paralyzed, we face the Son, but the glory is too bright! Bright!

Ooh, I see Him comin' back again like the lightning
comes from east to the

Voices callin' out as sinners on the earth confess, "I believe it!"

Ooh, I see Him comin' back again like the lightning
comes from east to the

West

We're so sorry, but repentance doesn't work right then,
I can see it

Ooh, I see Him comin' back again like He told in Matthew's Gospel back then Chapter 24 the 27th verse, amen... I believe it
