Friday, Christ had just departed
Saturday, Christ's grave was guarded
Sunday came and Christ came out again
And the stone they had in front
Was a sturdy heavy one
That they all were far too weak to move away
Now the men they had to guard that stone
Were top defensive guys from Rome
Even though Christ's own disciples were afraid
But the stone was knocked aside
And He made it out alive
So you said they only moved it from His grave
You maybe bright
I say you're crazy
Hey! But you just may need illuminating a little more
Turn on the light
It's kinda shady
My faith is strong because I know the way He died

And remember how they crowned Him there
'Cause Rome had no electric chair
They slowly tortured folks until they died
Yeah, the Romans scourged Him then
They said take this cross and stand
'Cause we'd like you boy to drag this for a while Then on top of all the things they tried
When Christ was done they crucified Him
Someone's spear went straight through at His waist
But you say the man just swooned
And they all were just confused
And He really was just in a coma state
You maybe bright
I say you're crazy
Hey! But it just may be excuses that you're looking for
If you hate the light
It's too late to save ya
My faith is strong because I know the way He died

(Break)

You maybe bright

I say you're crazy
Hey! But I just can't be the humanist you're looking for Turn down the lies
Don't try to faze me
My faith is strong because I know the way He died

You say we're wrong but you hate the light (repeat to fade
