I'm weak and so dry
Thirsting for that life
Something's covering my eyes
I can't see You though I try

All these works I've done just won't bring me closer to You
To accept such illogical truth, that it's by grace through You

I wanna live like one who's been saved by grace
I wanna live like one who's been redeemed
I wanna live like one who's been saved by grace
I wanna live like one who's been set free

I'm free
I'm free
