Broad horizon as i walk from your embrace
What i feel is nothing but the taste of you
I get buried in your mouth
I fall in, i don't care if i can't climb out

Look at the moon but i see only you
Three days away, i'm a man in a caravan
By the sea
Waving at the old folks waving at me

I'll fall for you
When i get on and shake my pride
I'll call on you
We can do better than i am tonight

Be strong and you'll get strength back
Feed the fire and you'll get warmth back

I'm walking the plank, edging out, see the drop
If i take a new step will you follow or stop?
I look back from the ocean beneath to your eyes
Are we in it together now?

If you've got any doubt i'll cast them out
I feel you close around me, i'm living for two
And why i'm laughing i'll remember for you
