I never knew I would become what I became No matter how hard you try nothing eer stays the ssame

Living life as you love it, Loving life as you live it Always taking more than that which you give it

I said hey (hey) hey (hey)
It's so hard to explain
Living loving, loving living
It's all driving me insane
Love will drive you crazy
Life will procreate
Rid yourself of strife
Or it will drive you to your fate

Chorus!

Please be kind and rewind to the time I saw you last
I could never be inclined to remind you of the past
When we didn't care that life could move so fast
And you fooled your mom (so cleverly) and hid your secret stash
I could never be inclined to remind you of the past
When we didn't care that life could move so fast

Starting from scratch seemed like a good idea at first Maybe starting over would surely break the curse
Craving for rebirth is just a sweet delicacy
But if you hope for too long you'll be riding in a hearse

And I know (know) know (know)
It's so hard to let go
Of the problems and the mistakes
You've tried not to let show
Give up on your rebirth
Deal with your torn past
Resolve all your issues
Or they'll bite you in your ass

Pitiful you are weak
Slipping in deeper

Your so easily persuaded
With splinters stuck in skin down to deep within You won't have the hope of Healing

Chorus again.
