"Back on Track"

I hate to play my part
In this twisted odyssey
Which seems to last forever

I'm a disharmonic key
In a wicked symphony
It seems the more I hurt, the better

One day you'll want me again
One day you'll love me again
One day and we will be back on track again

Back on track again

It's way too dark to see
I'm drained of energy
Corrupted and exploited

I've cried enough for you
You've cried enough over me
The never-ending game we play

One day you'll want me again
One day you'll love me again
One day and we will be back on track again

Back on track again
