so now your back, you want to fight again no mercy me 'cause I already know your game I know why you're here you want to see me slain four thousand years it's been the same feeling tired , feeling numb how could I have been so dumb

I let you in under my skin to be ditched and left alone I see fire in the sky
you turn me down, I wonder why one day revenge will be all mine until then I'll walk alone for a second time you're coming on again your faithful pawns working hard to drive me insane try to keep my head high in times of rain drying my tears now trying to cover up the pain

feeling tired , feeling numb
how could I have been so dumb
to be ditched and left alone
you turn me down, I wonder why

how could I have been so dumb
to be ditched and left alone
you turn me down, I wonder why
one day revenge will be all mine
