I'm half asleep again. My shell is sleeping, my soul is not.

I'm still confused, to many thoughts.
I fear, I fear temptation.

Weird thoughts inside my mind.
Cruel thoughts are tempting me.
I want to do what I know is wrong,
and I fear, I fear temptation.

Take me away, fill me with with desire.
Teach me how to live a life without regret.
I'm half asleep again...

Something's got a grip on my mind.
Forcing me to forget about you.
Makes me feel that I have to, that I need to.
I feel, I feel temptation.

Take me away...
