

Propeller

"Damage Is Done"

Visit "Damage Is Done" on MotoLyrics.com

Suddenly they surrounded me, with bricks in their hands, you're gonna die that's what they told me, be prepared for the end, here's what I thought when I got away

I never told about the way I felt, to her, so I guess that she'll never know, about me

My head is filled, and my room is empty at night, and my heart is struck, struck by confusion inside

I never told about the way I felt, to her, so I guess that she'll never know, about me

Although the bricks never hit me, still the damage is done, when I told her all about me, she had no choice but to run

Suddenly they surrounded me, with bricks in their hands, you're gonna die that's what they told me, be prepared for the end, here's what I thought when I got away

I never told about the way I felt, to her, so I guess that she'll never know, about me

Although the bricks never hit me, still the damage is done, when I told her all about me, she had no choice but to run

Visit Propeller page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.