My lovely friend luck never came today
She waved at me from a bus
As it drove away
To a more well-deserving creature of the night
All that was left for me was past delight

But this time 'round I'll be willing to break
With this old destiny
I once would take
And this time around it'll be okay
Now I'm walking away
And it's just my luck
Today

My comfy friend choice came by my house
He wanted me to go along with his old game
But this knife in my back was to unwind
He just stared
Oh, what a choice I've got Ohh yes!

But this time 'round I'll be willing to break
With this old destiny
I once would take
And this time around it'll be okay
Now I'm walking away
No, I'm not gonna stay
'Cause it's just my luck
Today

That the secrets is out
And all the butterflies have flown home
On this mountain
I'm taking a stand
And I'm wandering
Down the new path by my own

But this time 'round I'll be willing to break
With this old destiny
I once would take

And this time around itâll be okay
Now Iâm walking away
And itâs my time to play âCause it is just my choice
And it is Just my voice
And it is just my luck
Today

Our lovely friend friend luck never came today
