You have to have a party
When you're in a state like this
You can really move it all
You have to vote and change
You have to get right out of it
Like out of all this mess
You'll say yeah to anything
If you believe all this but
Don't cry, don't do anything
No lies, back in the government
No tears, party time is here again
President gas is up for president
Line up, put your kisses down
Say yeah, say yes again
Stand up, there's a head count
President gas on everything but roller skates
It's sick the price of medicine
Stand up, we'll put you on your feet again
Open up your eyes just to check that your asleep again
President gas is president gas again
He comes in from the left sometimes, he comes in from the right

It's so heavily advertised that he wants you and I

It's a real cowboy set, electric company

Every day is happy days it's hell without the sin, but

Don't cry, don't do anything

No lies, back in the government

No tears, party time is here again

President gas is up for president

Line up, put your kisses down

Say yeah, say yes again

Stand up, there's a head count

President gas on everything but roller skates

It's sick the price of medicine

Stand up, we'll put you on your feet again

Open up your eyes just to check that your asleep again

President gas is president gas again

President gas

Oh, president gas

President gas
