Darkness of white
You can through the sadness take your flight
And become the wings
That pierce the veil
Spreading strong and true tonight.

Brought into the light at last
By the cold exposing sun.
I was granted freedom tamed
To become the chosen one.
Through the mirror,
Night reflected;
Miraculous to see!
My soul threw away the mask
That hides the deeper me.
Breaking the dark of night,
Piercing through the painted white.
Cut it all away
From yesterday
'Til an new era's in sight.
Unlock the heart within,
Let it spread its wings and soar.
Rising up in flight
Through the night of white
And fly on forever more!
