The rent is overdue the phone's stopped ringing
And the bills are coming through the door
She never ever seems to make a living
Everybody else is making more

Antisocial in security
She had a dream to keep her company
She can't buy into your reality
She ain't got the money

So nothing changes, go to do it their way
Desperation makes you wait in line
There's no liberty for low life low wage
Prostitution of another kind

Stealing houses while the poor go homeless
Money grabbing fucking parasite
The sweat of other brows has paid the mortgage
Even more the rich and poor divide

Antisocial in security
She had a dream to keep her company
She'd give a million to charity
She ain't got the money
