i need you, i need you
now i'm in a fix, now i'm in a fix and,
i'm gonna run, to the hills and on,
'till my heels are gone, but i'm already gone. uncanny timing, you got a gift for words, but you know she's lying, but you can't lie for he.
uncanny timing, light your girl on fire,
'cause you know she's lying, and you can't stand a liar, but you got a friend, in jesus' choir.
you got your diamonds and you've got your silver shawls you got your sisters in the college studying occidental law and the abbots in the alleys and the kids in abel hall you got your misrepresentation spreading lies cross the nation again
in jesus' choir
