Your faith makes you tell us why your heart is still beatin'
Mistakes left their marks when you are trying to get even
Your life is too short to run around live in lies Don't cry if you one day hear my voice saying; goodbye

Don't pretend this story has no end

Yes I know, pretenders don't fit in, I would rather be myself
I couldn't tell those words in time. Yes I know
If you will go your way, or if you stay another day
Live your life and never look back

Some kind, some people has to do what they believe in Your second chance is here to stay if you will take it Get on the ride don't worry 'bout times passed Don't think about what happened because nothing will last

Don't pretend this story has no end

Yes I know, pretenders don't fit in, I would rather be
myself
I couldn't tell those words in time. Yes I know
If you will go your way, or if you stay another day
Live your life and never look back

Don't pretend this story has no end
Make a change if you will be my friend

Yes I know, pretenders don't fit in I would rather be
myself
I couldn't tell those words in time, The choice is yours
If you will go your way, or do you stay another day
Live your life and never look back.
