who am I to need you when I'm down where are you when I need you around your life is not your own and all I ask you is for another chance another way around you to live by circumstance, once again who am I to need you now to ask you why to tell you no to deserve your love and sympathy you were never meant to belong to me and you may go, but I know you won't leave too many years built into memories
your life is not your own
who am I to you?
along the way
I lost my faith and as you were, you'll be again to mold like clay, to break like dirt to tear me up in your sympathy

who am I
