You're an empty promise

You're an easy chair

You're the gods forces

Struck down somewhere

You're a secret noticed

You're a mystery sky

You're a wish floating

Up to the night

Medellia of my eyes

You're the emptiness of I

You're the reason that I write

And if you say you will

I would love you still

And if I could

I'd throw away this world

I'd dress you all in pearls

I'd give you what you wanted

You're all I notice

In a crowded room

Your vacant motives

Unmoved, revealed

Medellia of my eyes
You're the emptiness of I
You're the reason that I drive
And if you say you will
I would love you still
And if I just could
Be anything for you
Just anyone at all
Anything that mattered, washed out
You're the silly reasons
In a goldfish laugh
You're the ageless seasons
At rest, at last
