And on her doorstep

I saw that I was blind

I'd forsaken

what was mine

What had mattered

Mattered little now

We had shattered

apart somehow

Ooh

I can't help but stay the same

I remain true to my name

Time to get up

And take the long walk home

For the first time

I go alone

Do you remember when we first met?

Chasing down the alleyways

behind my dad's

Ooh

I can't help but stay the same

I remain true to the name

Of lovers past

Good enough to lose

Good enough to choose you, too

Ooh

I can't help but stay the same

Ooh

I remain true to the name

Of lovers past

Good enough to lose

Good enough to choose you, too
