rain falls on everyone

the same old rain

and i'm just trying to walk with you

between the raindrops

i send my echo out

to get your love with poem obscures reflections of my love

i'll save a prayer for you so lost and longing too bleach shared through dirty streaks wrapped up in clean white sheets and if you think they'll watch you now you should know they won't

obscure reflections of
of my secret power force down the wings of god
obscure reflections of my love and i'm just trying to talk to you
