taught to think by someone else's rules people turn into a gang of fools minds are cleansed with verbal doggy doo all things thought get covered up in school thought it was the only way live by rules of the status quo wishy-washy and so middle of the road do precisely as you're told "normal people" make my blood run cold
but you didn't really think at all your mind was a blank all your thoughts were suppressed by the way you were raised to accept all the lies and the vision of wealth that they shoved into your head turned out to be shit
