"Without You"

Baby, I'm thinking about the times.
The times that you used to share with me.
You said that you would never ever leave me.
But when I look at me, I'm left here all alone.

You promised me that you've always be true to me.
Through all those years, babe, you fooled me all along.
I really thought that you'd always be the one for me.
But now you've found someone, but does she treat you right.

Chorus 1

I don't wanna be without your love.
I don't wanna be with someone else.
You're the only one I want so, I can't go on living without.
Baby can't you see that I'm torn apart.
From the broken promises you've made.
Now I'm into deep so, I can't go on living without you.
