

Purple Deep

"Bird Has Flown Evans Blackmore Lord"

Visit "Bird Has Flown Evans Blackmore Lord" on MotoLyrics.com

A different recording from the version released on a single.

Ritchie tracked the Wah-Wah guitar on afterwards and also the guitar at the end of the middle section."

For the beggar on his cornerstone

Catches pity in his wrinkled hand

But the robber whose bird has flown

Catches nothing only grains of sand

All the children in the distant house

They have feelings only children know

But the robber whose bird has flown

Catches nothing only flakes of snow

The sensation's not new to you

It's something we all have known

You get it - it goes right through you

Yes it's something we all have known

And the bird it has flown

To a place on it's own

Somewhere all alone

Now the hermit in his lonely cave

Has himself to keep him company

But the robber whose bird has flown
He has heartaches same as you and me
The sensation's not new to you
It's something we all have known
You get it - it goes right through you
Yes it's something we all have known
And the bird it has flown
Now the hermit in his lonely cave
Has himself to keep him company
But the robber whose bird has flown
He has heartaches same as you and me

Visit Purple Deep page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.