I try to look back and see where we crossed that line so long ago

Don't know when it was or how, should have looked ahead before the go

It's so hard to ever see the right thing at the time to be

Took the plunge, should not have done,
would not have done, should not haveÃ¢â€Œ!

[Chorus]

What went wrong, how can this be right

Just don't know

What went wrong, how can this be right

How to know

What went wrong, how can this be right

Just don't know

What went wrong, how can this be right

How to know

Now the time has ventured on, it seems so different than before

Why I didn't see the truth will be a mystery forevermore

Tried to give all that I could, but it was just thrown back at me

Took the plunge, should not have done,
would not have done, should not haveÃ¢â€Œ!

[Chorus]

What went wrong, how can this be right

Just don't know

What went wrong, how can this be right

How to know

What went wrong, how can this be right

Just don't know

What went wrong, how can this be right

How to know

Now that time has ventured on, it seems so different than before

Why I didn't see the truth will be a mystery forevermore

[Chorus]

What went wrong, how can this be right

Just don't know

What went wrong, how can this be right

How to know

What went wrong, how can this be right

Just don't know

What went wrong

Should not have done, would not have done, should not have done!
