It's all in the water, colder
Those walls caving in
You loved this sad October
You know you said it now
You know you said it to me

It's all a carol but no trace of it
Down there after midnight
It's just coming down
It's just closing down

I waited for you, I sent you away
How could it hurt someone who formed the mess?
I don't really know, I cheated our fate
When the day rolls up and I turned away

We'll fall again soon curled up inside
In a photograph those simple looks
Innocent, ain't it all innocent?

You can have it in a corner
With that cold and then I'll fit
One time by the ocean
I'm missing you, I'm missing you

Inside it's so alone
Headed for the west again
And on the road in Arizona
This is it, this is it, this is it

One will drive us home
(One will drive)
One will drive us home
(One will drive it)

We're already late
A little bit later
A little bit later
A little forgot

A little bit later

At least just listen
(Past is through)
A little bit later
(Past is through)

And never have I
Wondered why you're gone
Wondered why you're gone
