Someday the sun will fall down
Someday the sun will fall down
And the waters will rise
And the waters will rise

And the walls will fall down
And the walls will fall down
Hands that built them will
The hands that built them will

At the cost of making love
We shine the times and hide the through
We'll find a way to make it run
We'll light a flame that says we are

Everyone you want
Everyone you want
Doesn't want you back
Doesn't want you back

At the cost of making love
We shine the times and hide the trough
We'll find a way to make it run
We'll light a flame that says we are
