This heart of mine will never mend
Until I find true love, and then
It will take some time, I know that it's true
For this heart of mine to get over you

Our love was a song that I thought would never end
But something went wrong that I can't comprehend
I gave you my heart and my everything
You tore it apart and broke every string

This heart of mine will never mend
Until I find true love, and then
It will take some time, I know that it's true
For this heart of mine to get over you

I sit here alone with my memories
Thinking of you as free as the breeze
This heart of mine cries but nobody hears
And here in my eyes are nothing but tears

This heart of mine will never mend
Until I find true love, and then
It will take some time, I know that it's true
For this heart of mine to get over you
