Typical Guy

{Intro}

{verse 1}

I lie awake and think of stuff

Ways to party and how to get drunk

You come home, we make love

Its all we both want, its you i'm thinkin of

Beer in one hand, your head on my shoulder

I'm content to stay, sit here, grow older

Life sails past but you dont need me

You lie to get you way, you wanna leave me

{chorus}

I'm a drunk and your a liar

Lets go set small kids on fire

Laugh at the loners

Make them cry

Spend the day bein a typical guy

{verse 2}

I'm pale in the face when i get home at night

All that drink and all of those lies

Dunno what to do, and i cant be assed

Just plant myself down and let life pass

I feel deflated, cant stand for shit

Bout work or friends i just wanna quit

Then you come round and its ok

I feel much better want you to stay

{chorus}

{verse 3}

I drown in my bath, you get all my stuff

My debts and worries, more than enough

Nothin much to say, thanks i guess

For puttin up with this drunken mess

Then i wake up and its all a dream

I smell of beer, my hairs unclean

Beer in one hand, your head on my shoulder

I'm content to stay, sit here, grow older
