Once upon a time not so very long ago
There wasn't such a thing as a rock'n roll show
You had to sit at home and listen to the radio
Then came a man with a rockin'guitar
Found himself a beat and he played it near and far
Everybody danced and sang and let the good times roll
Again again again again, again again again again
Why don't you do it, why don't you do it again
Again again again again, again again again again
Why don't you do it, why don't you do it again
He travelled round the world in a rock-n-roll band
He stood there like a giant with a guitar in his hand
Everybody danced and sang and let the good times roll
Nobody cared about the clothes he would wear
Nobody cared about the colour of his hair
Everybody came to see and let the good times roll
Again again again again, again again again again
Why don't you do it, why don't you do it again
Again again again again, again again again again
Why don't you do it, why don't you do it again

Now we've got the rhythm in us now we've got the rock

Time didn't matter never living by the clock

Everybody came to hear him playing his rock-n-roll

Then came a line when the music didn't rhyme

He couldn't find the rhythm cos he couldn't find the time

But still the people came to listen to the good times roll

Again again again again, again again again again

Why don't you do it, why don't you do it again

Again again again again, again again again again

Why don't you do it, why don't you do it again

Again again again again, again again again again

Why don't you do it, why don't you do it again

Again again again again, again again again again

Why don't you do it, why don't you do it again

Why don't you do it, why don't you do it again
