There is something you don't seem to control/ but it's part of your existence/ grown in your life, born in your life/ and older than you/ You can't react against it/ you can't announce it/ There is a time when you get to know/ that it's made for you// It invades you are you are rebel no more/ It finally orders your life/ and you understand: there are things that must be done/(things ordered by a natural law)// You cannot choose another way/ if you don't accept you'll die/ and I won't recognise you/ and I won't recognise your actions/ In this chaos of modern world/ it is the only consolation/ it gives a sense to all this confusion/ it's indispensable to life// It's so natural...// Destiny makes our life a battle/Destiny, slowly we become/ Destiny gives the world a measure/ Destiny creates and sets out// There is no judgment in your future/ There is only your route/ you will find no anguish/ you'll find only action/ No God will send you to Hell/ because you god-made or dead/ will determine your being/ and in your destiny it is written// Destiny that is already drawn/ Destiny that wants to be fulfilled/ There's only one destiny in your life/ the rest is your death and another life// Destiny...//
