Trevor Rabin)

It's where you go when you're in danger

And how you open your disguise

It's your uncompromising anger

It's how you cope with all your ties

If you look over your shoulder

You'll find a kindred soul in me

I never said that it was easy

But I need to make you see

CHORUS

When the time comes 'round don't slip away

Give me something to hold on to

I'll give you more than you came for

Give me something to hold on to

It's how you look when you are angry

About the things you say you see

The way you search for what you're after

I wish you'd look around at me

I look for you in Blue Jay Way

And find that you wouldn't stay

I never said that it was easy

CHORUS

You're the jacoranda in my morning

You're my laser in the night

When the time comes 'round don't slip away

Give me something to hold on to

In field of love and indecision

I'll find you laying in the sun

I might trap you in my whirlpool

Where there's nowhere left to run
