

Villains To The Masses Heroes To The Holy "An Journey As"

I saw you first, 7 years ago
And it's gone further then I thought it'd ever go
Why? I don't understand
You never appealed to me until it was most inconveniently
Why did it start, you said it was all my fault
So I tried, tried and died.

Don't turn away
Don't turn away from me

Now much time as passed
And you and I have shared a unique past
If I could go back, I wouldn't change a thing
Cause every time we talk, you tell me you love me
And last time we hung out, we spent time cuddling
I wish I could foresee the end of our journey
So I tried, tried and died

Don't turn away
Don't turn away from me

No I don't want
Anybody else but you
So I'll wait here
Until you change your mind

Don't turn away
Don't turn away from me
