You always seemed to speak so truthfully
You promised that you would wait for me
Now I think you knew that you wouldn't
I just wish you hadn't told me over the internet

Now it seems I've come to the end
Of another Journey
But you will be the one who ends up
Being sorry

While we were together it seems I was to loved
By everyone else, and that boiled your blood
If having more praise then you bothered you so much
You'll never be happy with anyone

Seeing me again, will cause you to want me
But I wont fall into your circle of insanity
Because I dealt with you full circle
And all you did was make me feel belittled
Not loved nor wanted, no
That's not your style

You were always so beautiful
When you looked into my eyes
Whether I, was above you
Or on the other side

You made me feel
Like every man wants to feel
Until you destroyed my dignity
And made me feel despised
