Is it any wonder I hold you so tight?
It's because we never promised
One more day or night
Remember...

There will never be another you, another me
Another life for us to live
To give each other all we give
Time goes by so fast, I wanna make each moment last
I wanna hold you close to me and show you
All our love can be
I won't let go too easily
There will never be another you and me

I know love can hurt us, and love can make us fly
I know I was born to love you
Until the day I die
Believe me...

There will never be another you, another me
Another life for us to live
To give each other all we give
Time goes by so fast, I wanna make each moment last
I wanna hold you close to me and show you
All our love can be
I won't let go too easily
There will never be another you and me
