Say you're sorry
You still care
She came by my place again
Cryin' about you man

You should love her
Twice as much
I try to remember you're a friend
But it's gettin' a little rough

She's just tired of bein' Cinderella
She can't live that way no more
She needs a little affection, a little understanding
You better be careful 'cause the next time
She comes to my door she won't be a Cinderella no more

A teardrop trembled
On her face
Where that smile always was
It seemed out of place

When I held her
Like a friend
I could feel a sweet beginning
But taste a bitter end

She's just tired of bein' Cinderella
She can't live that way no more
She needs a little affection, a little understanding
You better be careful 'cause the next time
She comes to my door you'll be sorry

'Cause it seems like
It's always something with you
And everybody's always wrong

One of these nights
You'll reach for the pillow she sleeps on
And she's gonna be gone

She's just tired of bein' Cinderella

She can't live that way no more
She needs a little affection, a little understanding
And you better be careful 'cause the next time
She comes to my door you'll be sorry

She's just tired of bein' Cinderella
She can't live that way no more
She needs a little affection, a little understanding
And you better be careful 'cause the next time
She comes to my door you'll be sorry

She's just tired
