Wasn't it a dream?
You lead me to the water
The moon on the horizon
I was so far under the memories
In all their repetition
The dogs are far behind me
Loose to wander free here Emptied of my pride a loneliness I feel inside
Come to rest my soul
Why is it that I don't recognize your face?
And why you've brought me to this place?
I sit in darkness now while my prayers release me
Looking for the river but the rivers in the sky
My clock is running backwards and my heart is outta
time
We're never gonna get it while we're fighting over love songs
I lean into the wind but the winds about to die
The sun is in my face and my tears are running dry We'll never work it out while we're fighting over love
songs
So I traveled onward
The sun is getting hotter
My eyes are growing weary
While I dig for water to fill me
To wash away the journey
To give my life a reason
To finally free me
Searching other ways
Ones that beg for me to stay
I come seeking hope in the land of meaning
Looking for the river but the rivers in the sky
My clock is running backwards and my heart is outta
time
We're never gonna get it while we're fighting over love
songs
I lean into the wind but the winds about to die
The sun is in my face and my tears are running dry
We'll never work it out while we're fighting over love
Fighting over love songs

Tempted by the rules
Segregation made by fools
We'll stand alone till we drink the water
Looking for the river but the rivers in the sky
My clock is running backwards and my heart is outta
time
songs
songs
The walls are falling down while the future's going by We're looking to the Heavens in a world about to die We're never gonna save it while we're fighting over love songs
Yeah
We talk about the peace while the wars are taking lives
Our hearts about to break while our children are denied They're never gonna get it while we're fighting over love
Fighting over love
